Course Outline

The Course

Understanding Project Management can be a nightmare! Exactly what is the role? Where does it start? Where does it stop? What does a project manager do and where does their authority start and finish? What makes a good Project Manager, and can we learn from outside the Industry? All these questions and so many more are covered by the Project Management Special Interest Group.

We are currently experiencing issues with our online booking system so to book your place either email the office on office@icr-global.org or call us on 07955 680944 and we can take your payment over the phone!

Course Information

Alison Holland

Alison Holland is Executive General Manager at Medable, the leading SaaS platform for patient-centered clinical trials. Alison is chartered to design and expand the end-to-end capabilities needed to partially or fully virtualize clinical studies, building on the commitment to reduce clinical trial times by 50%.

Alison has over 20 years of experience in a variety of leadership roles, including Feasibility Head and Six Sigma Black Belt at Covance (now LabCorp), and Business Head and Global General Manager of therapeutic area business groups.

Having been engaged in over 300 studies across Biotechs, Pharma, and all geographies, Alison brings an incomparable level of insight and technical excellence on the matter of operational needs for sites and patients. Leveraging that knowledge to now apply technology solutions to address some long standing industry challenges and improve the patient experiences and choices in study participation
